Academic Fee Support

---

Students can apply to receive financial support to cover the cost of HSU tuition fees. This support is available for a two year period based on maintaining satisfactory progress in all program course requirements. Full cost of fees for fall, spring, and summer semesters is available for reimbursement. If you are accepted into the program and receive funding, you will be required to teach children with disabilities in schools in the United States for two years for each year you have received funding.

---

Applications

---

Students with an undergraduate degree can apply. Students with a bachelor of science degree in kinesiology and with an approved physical education subject matter option are encouraged to apply. Other kinesiology major options and those with undergraduate majors apart from Kinesiology: Teaching are encouraged, but applicants will need to pass the CSET exam in physical education to verify subject matter competence in physical education.
